

Two Successive Dreams - 3/31/04

1ST dream:

Image (circle around a [] square) – a large dish or bowl-shaped amphitheater – in the center is a sq. Boxing ring – I see two men? [or, maybe one man who is fighting himself] – The two men are boxing each other to a bloody mess. Swirling around them – filling the amphitheater is a huge pit of garbage – a Garbage Dump – wind blows the garbage swirling around – Garbage trucks roar by, I am trying to leave – but the exits are blocked with triangular hatched fencing material.

2nd dream:

I am laying on a woman's lap – its dark – a Bear has approached us and she is consoling me – protecting me. I close my eyes – the Bear is so close its nose touches my chest or side (I am not wearing a shirt or T-shirt) – I am frightened, but nothing happens. Then the Bear's Cub is there too – and is non-threatening. Still embraced by the woman, we watch the Bear & its cub run off (it's a rainy street corner) as they do – they become or look more horse like – & narrowly miss being hit by a car in the rain-streaked street.
